What is the NES?

The NES is a contemporary, 100 percent computer-based teacher certification testing program, using cutting edge methods in test development, delivery, and support. A comprehensive, dynamic testing program aligned to professionally accepted national learning standards, the NES offers states a new choice in teacher certification tests.

What is pilot testing?

Pilot testing is designed to collect information about the test items. The pilot test forms will contain a sample of multiple-choice and open-response items. Open response items are only included on select tests. A pilot test form will take about two hours to complete. Each participant is eligible for compensation for a maximum of eight pilot tests.

What are the benefits of participating?

For each pilot test form completed, participants will receive one of the following incentives:

$75.00 electronic Penguin Books gift code
$40.00 check

How will I receive my incentive?

At the end of the test, you will be asked to select one of the incentives. If you select either of the gift code options, a screen will prompt you to enter and confirm your email address. If you select the check option, you will be provided with instructions that direct you to send in your physical test administration receipt, and to include your valid social security number. Test administration receipts must be sent to:

Evaluation Systems group of Pearson
Attn: NES Pilot Incentive
P.O. Box 226
Amherst, MA 01004

Please allow approximately 14 days for your electronic incentive to arrive via email, and 6 to 8 weeks for your check to arrive via postal mail.

If I am a Faculty member, are there incentives for me if my students participate?

Faculty members are encouraged to share pilot test information with their students. If a faculty member provides the names and contact information of 10 students who register and take a pilot test, the faculty member will be eligible for a $50 Penguin Books voucher. Each faculty member is eligible to submit up to 100 student names. (Note: all students must register and take a pilot test.)

How do faculty members provide student names?

1. Faculty members are encouraged to pass along pilot test information to their students, including registration process details.
2. Faculty members can send an email to NESTestRecruit@pearson.com, and include the names and email addresses for groups of 10 students who have been informed of pilot test opportunities. Each faculty member is eligible to submit up to 100 student names. (Note: all students must register and take a pilot test.)
3. Faculty members must include their own name and contact information in the email for incentive tracking purposes.

Students are responsible for registering to take pilot tests. Faculty members are encouraged to remind their students of the pilot test opportunities and the cancellation policy.

How do I register for a NES pilot test?

There is no cost for you to take a pilot test. Please register online. Select create a new web account in order to create your personal profile. Then, you will be able to register for a NES pilot test at one of many Pearson VUE sites across the country.

Who is eligible to take a NES pilot test?

Candidates who will be seeking a teaching license and would be required to take any licensure examination, including students in educator preparation programs, students with post-secondary education, and persons who have recently been licensed. Faculty members are not eligible to participate.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ)

How do I prepare for the NES pilot test?

A good pilot tester is someone who makes an earnest effort to complete the test and to carefully review all test questions. A good pilot tester should thoughtfully consider test item answers.

Will I receive score information?

Because information from the pilot tests will be used to evaluate test questions for the NES program, score information will not be provided. Pilot test results will be kept confidential.

How are the tests developed?

The NES has been developed by the most experienced company in standards-based teacher certification testing. Each of the NES tests was carefully developed using the rigorous process described on our NES program Web site.

What if I need to change my appointment or cancel?

If you are unable to take your test at the date, time, and location for which you registered, please log in to your Pearson VUE account and reschedule your appointment at least 24 hours in advance. If you find that you are unable to attend any test session, you must cancel your session. Evaluation Systems group of Pearson is charged for no-shows and cancellations less than 24 hours in advance of your scheduled test, so please make every effort to reschedule or cancel. Thank you.
